

Bodzsár, É.B., Zsákai, A. (2006, Eds) Man and Environment: Trends and Challenges in Anthropology. Plenary lectures of 15th Congress of EAA. Humanbiologia Budapestinensis 29. HU ISSN 01340034. pp. 96.

Raskó, I.: Genetic methods in seeking human population origins.	7–10
Bennike, P.: Human ecology: a question of balance! Interaction between human health and environment – Past and present.	11–22
Schell, L.M.: Challenges of contemporary urbanism on growth and health.	23–38
Cameron, N.: Human growth as an indicator of social change.	39–54
Duquet, W.: Functional anthropology: Challenges for the future.	55–59
Ross, W.D: Inconometrographical analysis of comprehensive anthropometric data.	61–70
Ubelaker, D.H.: New methodology in forensic anthropology.	71–88
Susanne, C.: Human evolution: Rationalism versus creationism.	89–96